

SAYURI GRADY

Sayuri is currently General Counsel at the Australian Public Service Commission, based in Canberra. Prior to this role, she worked as an in-house lawyer for the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, Department of Social Services and the former Department of Families, Housing, Community Services and Indigenous Affairs. She has a background in administrative, commercial, criminal and employment law and significant experience in Indigenous Affairs legal issues. She is also a part time statutory office holder for the ACT Government, reviewing disciplinary actions in relation to ACT prisons and volunteers with ACT Legal Aid. Sayuri is passionate about the professional development of government lawyers and (tries to!) balance work with her husband, two children aged 3 and 6 and her beloved ‘spoodle’ dogs.