

Sydney Jacobs, Barrister, 13 Wentworth Chambers

Sydney Jacobs is a barrister at 13 Wentworth Chambers. He read for his LL.M at Cambridge and has a commercial equity practice encompassing property, partnership, corporate law and construction disputes.

Sydney has gained expertise in easements involving both Torrens and Old System land, leasing matters, contracts for the sale of land including off-the-plan, notices to perform and to complete, rescission/termination/specific performance /relief against forfeiture, claiming the return of deposits, options/rights of first refusal, strata, and building and construction disputes.

A list of his many cases and publications is to be found on his 13 Wentworth Chambers website.

Underscoring a life dedicated to the law (when he is not snowboarding or playing tennis), Sydney is the sole author of two major loose-leaf services, namely: Damages in a Commercial Context and Injunctions: Law and Practice, and partly authors the leading loose-leaf service, Commercial & International Arbitration (all published by Thomson Reuters).

He has been, for many years, a popular presenter of CPD seminars.
