

Bradley Smith, Barrister, Tenth Floor Chambers

Bradley was admitted to the legal profession in 2018 and called to the Bar in 2020. Prior to coming to the Bar, Bradley was a solicitor at King & Wood Mallesons where he worked on a wide range of commercial disputes, with a focus on corporate insolvency.

In 2017, Bradley was Tipstaff to the Honourable Justice Rowan Darke, the Real Property List judge of the Supreme Court of New South Wales. At university, Bradley won a number of prizes including first place in corporations law and evidence law, as well as best oralist in the Australian rounds of the Jessup Moot. Bradley holds a Bachelor of Law and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Sydney.