

Chloe Sevil

Senior Associate, Clyde & Co

Chloe is a cyber crisis management and privacy specialist. Boards engage Chloe to lead their response to large-scale cyber incidents and advise on reputational, commercial, data and regulatory risk.

Experience

Chloe is an incident response and privacy and data specialist in Clyde & Co's Sydney office.

- Chloe coordinates the response to large scale data and cyber incidents, managing multi-jurisdictional legal teams, forensic vendors, law enforcement, public relations/communications, and internal stakeholders.
- Chloe excels at reporting and communicating recommendations to the C suite, balancing commercial risk with regulatory considerations.
- In the pre and post incident space, Chloe advises on incident preparedness, data risk assessments and APP compliant policies and procedures.

Chloe has extensive experience advising Australian and trans-Tasman businesses on data and privacy risk. Chloe is an active member of the NSW Law Society's Data and Privacy Committee, and besides her incident response work Chloe has a keen interest in privacy law reform, technology and innovation.

Incident Response

Advising a global health services provider regarding a major ransomware incident and potential impact to 40,000 affected individuals.

Advising a well-established aged care charity on data breach reporting rules, and providing guidance on notifying highly vulnerable aged care residents of a data breach.

Advising an ASX listed Australian headquartered property development company following a data breach involving multiple parties and stakeholders.

Regulatory Investigations

Advising multiple organisations on their response to requests for information made by the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner following notification of Eligible Data Breaches under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

Pre-Incident

Preparing a suite of incident preparedness process and policy documents for an Australian headquartered charity.

Advising ASX listed medical devices technology on vendor privacy risk and drafting contractual terms to ensure vendors comply with privacy laws.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES