

Professor Jeannie Marie Paterson

Professor of Law and Co-Director for the Centre for AI and Digital Ethics, The University of Melbourne

Jeannie Marie Paterson specialises in the areas of contracts and consumer protection, along with the law and regulation of emerging technologies.

Jeannie is the co-director of the Centre for AI and Digital Ethics, a collaborative, interdisciplinary research, teaching and policy centre at the University of Melbourne involving the faculties of Computing and Information Systems, Law, Arts and Science and Co-leader of the Digital Ethics research stream at the Melbourne Social Equity Institute, an interdisciplinary research institute focused on social equity and community led research.

Jeannie holds a current legal practising certificate and regularly consults to government and not-for-profit organisations, as well as speaking regularly on issues around AI, ethics and consumer protection. She is a Fellow of the Australian Academy of Law. She is a member of the academic steering committees of the Minderoo Tech and Policy Lab (UWA), Cyber Security CRC (Canberra) and the Australian Society for Computers and the Law. She is an academic editor of the Australian Journal of Business Law and the Journal for Law, Technology and Humans.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES