

Kerrie Anglin

Kerrie has been facilitating this online course for 3 years in-between practising as a lawyer and teaching High School Legal Studies. She was originally admitted in the ACT before moving to Queensland where she volunteered with Salvos Legal Humanitarian and now works part time in a small boutique practice. Kerrie has recently co-authored a text “Law and Ethics for Australian Teachers” and hopes to empower teachers in the classroom to better understand their responsibilities and rights within an education framework. Facilitating this course provides Kerrie the perfect combination to share her love of law, learning and ability to communicate with the participants from many backgrounds and experiences.
