

Catherine Hallgath

Partner, Mills Oakley

Catherine is a Partner at Mills Oakley who is widely recognised and highly regarded within the property industry for her expertise in leasing.

Catherine has a deep understanding of both the property industry and her clients' businesses and uses this understanding to develop solutions in deal negotiations.

She is brought into projects early because of her ability to provide solutions to complex property issues and to work collaboratively as part of project teams. Catherine also works with her clients to assist them to develop innovative ways to provide their services to the marketplace.

In addition, Catherine is experienced in providing a wide range of landlord portfolio leasing and property management services in the commercial, retail and industrial sectors including precedent management and development. Catherine and her team manage lease negotiations across national portfolios to ensure consistency of approach.

Catherine's clients include real estate investment trusts, foreign and domestic property funds, investment managers and domestic and international corporations.

Catherine is an Accredited Specialist in Property Law.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES