

John van Rooyen

Global Sales Director, Fileman

John helps firms to securely accelerate their digital transformation journeys. He practised as a barrister in South Africa and held several Legal Technology leadership roles at LexisNexis (Australia and New Zealand). He successfully developed and launched innovative solutions in collaboration with lawyers to drive digital transformation across the legal industry.

He draws on more than 22 years of Legal Technology, Digital Forensics, and Information Security experience when assisting firms with risk assessments, evaluating information systems, testing security controls, and identifying information governance process improvements to reduce the likelihood of a data breach.

John understands the challenges and complexities lawyers are navigating to ensure their clients' data stay safe in cyberspace. He is a frequent presenter at national and international conferences, enjoys travelling with his wife and often posts on LinkedIn about interesting cybersecurity news and legal technology advancements.
