

Jenica Lim-Young

Senior Associate, Maurice Blackburn Lawyers

Jenica Lim-Young is an Accredited Specialist in Personal Injury Law and has significant experience with a wide variety of medical malpractice claims in NSW and the ACT, including claims involving misdiagnosis, birth trauma and surgical error. She is an experienced litigator and negotiator and has successfully resolved a number of multi-million-dollar cases for adults and children who have suffered serious injuries or lost loved ones as a result of negligence. She has also successfully represented clients wishing to challenge decisions made by the National Disability Insurance Agency in the Administrative Appeals Tribunal. Jenica has a particular interest in matters relating to human rights, diversity and equality, and has previously sat on the Law Society of New South Wales' Diversity and Inclusion Committee as well as chairing Maurice Blackburn's NSW cultural diversity group. Jenica was a finalist in the Lawyers Weekly 30 under 30 Awards in 2019.
