

Joanne Wade

Head of National Asbestos and Dust Diseases, Slater + Gordon

Joanne Wade is the National Head of Asbestos and Dust Diseases at Slater and Gordon and is an Accredited Specialist in Personal Injury Law. She specialises in asbestos and dust diseases claims and began practising law in 1996. Joanne leads teams of highly experienced, expert lawyers in the asbestos and dust diseases field throughout WA, NSW, ACT, QLD and Vic. She has acted for hundreds of people suffering from Mesothelioma, Silicosis, Lung cancer, Asbestosis, Asbestos-related pleural disease and Progressive Massive Fibrosis. Joanne works closely with her clients and their families during what is a very stressful time. Joanne acted in the case of Dunning v BHP Billiton Limited [2014] NSWDDT 3 for an employee of BHP Billiton Limited in the Dust Diseases Tribunal of New South Wales, achieving a landmark decision on damages for pain and suffering in New South Wales.
