

Dylan Orsborn

Principal Legal Officer, Department of Planning and Environment

Dylan Orsborn is an environmental and native title lawyer with experience in private practice, the community legal sector and in government. He has advised project developers in the carbon space, represented Aboriginal Traditional Owners in native title litigation, and now advises on environmental law issues in the Department of Planning and Environment.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES