

Helping you transition into an in-house role

---

Dates: 31 July 2024 | Venue: Online via Microsoft Teams

About the online program

The transition into an in-house role presents an exciting opportunity to develop new skills and change the way you practise law. As with every change, while you embrace the opportunities, you might also face some challenges.

To support you during this transition, the Law Society is pleased to invite you to join us at our In-House Induction 2024. This exclusive program will be offered in person at the Law Society of NSW for a full day in April.

Throughout the course of the day you will hear from senior Law Society solicitors who will explore some of the ethical challenges in-house lawyers face and discuss the important issues of confidentiality and privilege. You will also hear from experienced General Counsel, legal operations and wellbeing and career experts who will give you practical guidance and tips on how to successfully navigate the transition and ensure you have the foundations to forge a rewarding in-house career.

We look forward to welcoming you.

In-House Induction 2024

Helping you transition into an in-house role

Dates: 31 July 2024 | Venue: Online via Microsoft Teams

| Time              | Topic  | Presenters   |
|-------------------|--|--|
| 9:00am            | The Presidents Address   | Brett McGrathPresidentThe Law Society of New South Wales                  |
| 9:00am – 10:00am  | Practical approach to in-house practice                        | Craig EmeryGeneral CounselExternal Affairs & LegalTelstra             |
| 10:00am – 11:00am | Ethics   | Linden BarnesSenior Ethics SolicitorThe Law Society of New South Wales    |
| 11:00am – 11:20am | Break  |  |
| 11:20am – 12:20pm | The impact of AI and new technology on in-house legal practice | Schellie-Jayne PricePartnerStirling and Rose                              |
| 12:20pm – 1:30pm  | Lunch break  |  |
| 1:30pm – 3:00pm   | Legal operations and project management for in-house teams     | Linda-Rose DayaHead of Legal Project Management and DesignGilbert + Tobin |
| 3:00pm – 3:20pm   | Break  |  |
| 3:20pm – 4:20pm   | Wellbeing and resilience                                       | Glenn DennettPrincipalGlenn Dennett + Associates                          |