

Carolyn Huntsman

President, NSW Mental Health Review Tribunal

Her Honour Magistrate Carolyn Huntsman was appointed as a magistrate of the Local Court of NSW in 2013 and as President of the NSW Mental Health Review Tribunal in 2022. Previously Her Honour was appointed to various State and Commonwealth Tribunals and practiced as a solicitor with the Legal Aid Commission and Aboriginal legal organisations as well as in private practice. As Magistrate Her Honour sat at a number of metropolitan and regional courts and has been a member of the Local Court's education committee. Her Honour has a longstanding interest in the rights of those who have experienced mental health conditions.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES