About Charlotte Turner

Charlotte is a Senior Associate in Herbert Smith Freehill's Head Office Advisory, ESG practice. Building on her previous experience as a litigator, Charlotte now specialises in climate and sustainability risk governance, providing clients with a 'beyond-compliance' approach in relation to the broad spectrum of ESG matters. Charlotte is currently studying towards a Master of Environment at Melbourne University and has recently been accepted as a Wattle Fellow where she will be researching ways in which consideration of sustainability issues can be integrated into legal studies and practice.
