Nick Abrahams

Global Co-leader, Digital Transformation Practice, Norton Rose Fulbright

Nick is a LinkedIn Top Voice in Technology and has been a partner at international law firm Norton Rose Fulbright for over twenty years, spending the last eight years in global technology and innovation leadership roles. His team won the Technology Law Firm of the Year award. Nick is an Adjunct Professor at Bond University where he teaches the popular Breakthrough Lawyer Program which helps lawyers become better legal leaders and innovators at their organisations.

Nick co-created the world's first AI-enabled privacy chatbot and won the Financial Times newspaper's Asia Innovator or the Year Award. He is the Co-founder of LawPath, an online legal solution which has served over 400,000 customers. Nick was on the board of ASX300 company, Integrated Research, for six years and is currently on the boards of the Garvan Foundation, the Vodafone/TPG Foundation and the Sydney Film Festival. He is the host of the popular podcast Web3 goes Mainstream and the author of the Amazon bestselling books Big Data, Big Responsibilities and Digital Disruption in Australia.