

About our presenter

David Evenden was admitted as a lawyer in 1997. Prior to joining Legal Aid NSW, David spent several years working in the Northern Territory as a solicitor for Aboriginal Legal Aid. He has extensive experience appearing as an advocate in criminal trials and sentence matters in the NSW District Court. He has also appeared extensively in the coronial jurisdiction, and currently manages the Coronial Inquest Unit at Legal Aid, appearing in public interest matters on behalf of families and other interested parties.