

About the Author

Simon came to the Bar from Herbert Geer Lawyers in 2003. He has since built a general commercial trial-based practice. Simon regularly appears (alone and as junior counsel) for clients in all Victorian courts, appellate courts and tribunals in his stated practice areas. Simon has also appeared in several interstate jurisdictions and the High Court of Australia.

Simon also accepts briefs to advise in all his stated practice areas. He is particularly interested in matters involving the Corporations Act, equity, trusts and Wills & Estates.

Simon has developed a keen interest in lecturing and teaching. He regularly presents papers in his stated practice areas both to established CPD providers; and law firms' internal CPD programs. He has lectured Contract Law at RMIT Business School.
